

Looking at Careers

Suggested timeframe of completion: Beginning of School Year- October 1

Throughout high school, you've been exploring your interests and values and discovering how they can be useful in helping you choose a career. You've been developing technical and soft skills in your classes and in learning how to navigate your social environment. Now is a good time to see how your interests, values, and skills can come together to help you develop a short list of potential career options. Spend some time exploring careers on Next Steps.
