

Looking at Schools

Suggested timeframe of completion: October 1- January 15

Another step in developing your plan for life after high school is to find a school or training center that will best support your career and life aspirations. There are many things to consider when identifying the best fit for you.

- Does the school offer the major you're interested in pursuing?
- Do you want to study in Idaho or look for new opportunities out of state?
- Does the cost of attendance fit your budget?

Use the filter features on Big Future's College Search to help you discover schools that are right for you.

Explore Schools

Once you've narrowed down your list of options, pick your top three and reflect on the following:

1	School
	Where is the school located?
	- Select -
	What is the cost of attendance?
	$
	What kinds of financial aid options are available at this school?
	What student life activities does this offer that interest you?
	What types of campus services does this school offer its students?

School

Where is the school located?

- Select -

What is the cost of attendance?

$

What kinds of financial aid options are available at this school?

What student life activities does this offer that interest you?

What types of campus services does this school offer its students?

School

Where is the school located?

- Select -

What is the cost of attendance?

$

What kinds of financial aid options are available at this school?

What student life activities does this offer that interest you?

What types of campus services does this school offer its students?

If you had to pick one school from the list above it would be:

What interests you most about this school?

What financial aid might you need to apply for to help you attend?

☐ Scholarships

☐ Grants

☐ Loans

☐ Work Study

Mark As Complete
No