

Electives That Interest You

Suggested timeframe of completion: January 1- March 1

Do you have room in your schedule for elective courses that might help you get into a competitive college or major, win a scholarship or other award, or simply want to try something new? Electives are courses that are not required for graduation but can help you expand your learning beyond core subject areas, and help raise your GPA, if needed.

How do you decide on which elective might be best for you? First, spend some time going through your school’s course catalog to see what’s offered at your school. Then make a list of 8-10 courses you might want to consider taking over the next four years and ask yourself the following questions:

- Would this course help me achieve my career or life goal?
- Does this course speak to one of my passions or interests?

Complete the table below adding as many rows you need.
