Idaho College Acceptance Letter – What do I do next?

In September, you and your parents will be receiving nearly identical letters from the State Board of Education. These letters will tell you (and your parents) which Idaho colleges and/or universities have accepted you based on your grades and SAT/ACT scores. You'll also receive a reminder letter in October.

Congratulations!

But you're not done yet. Next, you will need do some research on which of your options is the best fit for what you want to study and what kind of college community fits you best. We've put together an Idaho Schools Directory to help you learn more about our public institutions.
